American Hospital Association™
Advancing Health in America

TrusteeInsights

July 2021

SUBSCRIBE

DIVERSITY

Creating a More Diverse and Inclusive Board

By Teri Fontenot and Sue Ellen Wagner

Starting discussion in the boardroom about diversity and inclusion can support and accelerate board diversity efforts at health care organizations.

STRATEGIC PLANNING

Increasing a Board's Strategic Competency

By Rachelle Schultz and Pamela R. Knecht

Health care boards that invest the time in discussing strategy can position their organization for success.

GOVERNANCE EFFECTIVENESS

Don't Forget the Big Strategic Picture

By Sue Tetzlaff and Jane McLeod

Focused, strategic discussions in the boardroom can support organizational excellence.

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

Minority Mental Health Awareness Month

During July, AHA will be releasing new resources to aid hospitals and health systems in reaching out to minorities needing behavioral health help and connecting them with professionals who can best meet their needs.

VALUE

5 Ways Administrative and Clinical Leaders Can Convene for Value

In this AHA blog, Priya Bathija, vice president of strategic initiatives, and Elisa Arespacochaga, vice president of clinical affairs and workforce, share five ways to improve collaboration between administrative and clinical leaders when designing and implementing value-based strategies.

© 2021 American Hospital Association
The opinions expressed by authors do not necessarily reflect the policy of the American Hospital Association.

AHA Trustee Services

Click here to unsubscribe.

155 N. Wacker, Suite 400, Chicago, IL 60606