

COVID-19

Leading a Coordinated Community Response During COVID-19

By Warren Forgey, Eric Fish and Rick Smith

During and moving beyond the pandemic, hospital and health system boards and executive teams need to keep community stakeholders engaged to forge a better state of health in their communities.

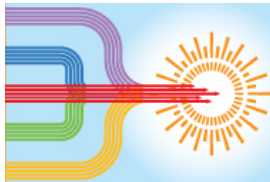

POPULATION HEALTH/COVID-19

COVID-19 and Social Determinants of Health

By Nancy A. Myers

Disparities in COVID-19 outcomes serve as an important reminder for trustees and senior leaders to reinforce the work in our communities to address underlying causes of health disparities.

RESOURCES/COVID-19

AHA Releases Pathways to Recovery Compendium

By Sue Ellen Wagner

This compendium includes questions and checklists for hospitals and health systems to use in working toward a safe, orderly return to providing comprehensive health care services to their communities.

RESOURCES/COVID-19

Experts Analyze Health Care's Near- and Long-Term Operations

Health care leaders and policy experts surveyed recently predict that COVID-19's impact will be deep and long-lasting.

BOARD INFRASTRUCTURE

Beyond Bylaws: Four Health Care Governance Lessons from COVID-19

By Laura Orr

The COVID-19 crisis has imposed new pressures, complexities and challenges to the trustee role, and efficient and effective governance practices have never been more important. As the many lessons learned from COVID-19 will be applied to improve the delivery of clinical care, so too can leaders use this crisis as an opportunity to improve health system governance.

Updates on COVID-19

Since the COVID-19 outbreak began, the American Hospital Association has worked closely with the CDC and other federal, state and local partners to respond to this challenge and to make sure hospitals and health systems have the most up-to-date information. For the latest information and resources, visit aha.org/COVID19.